Website Updates

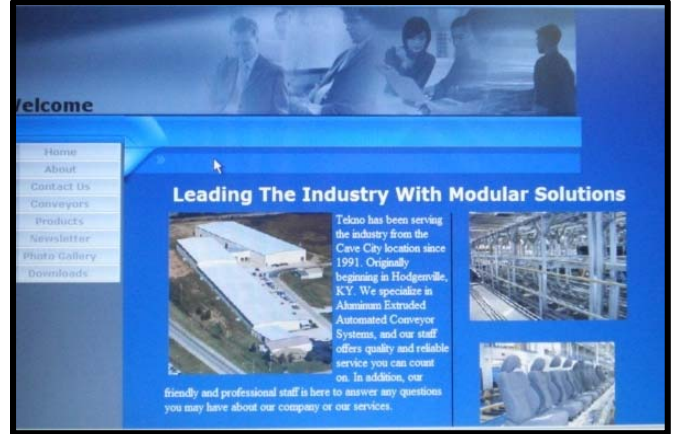

If you haven't visited our website lately, we encourage you to do so.

Our website is one location where you can stay up to date with our product offerings. New application photos and additional product flyers are only a few of the new additions.

Previous newsletter editions are also available for download.

If you haven't signed up for Web Gear for online ordering, give us a call. It's quick and easy.

So, check us out on the web at www.tekno.com.

FEATURED PRODUCT

Tekno Flow Rails

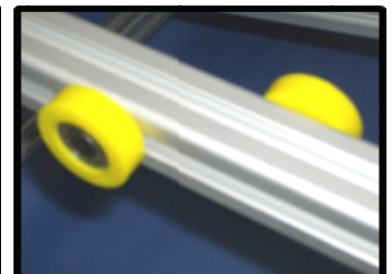

This month we are featuring a new addition to Tekno's modular flow rack offerings – our new modular flow rails.

Utilizing our standard pallet corner rollers, Tekno has developed a new flow rail system. The rollers can be installed in either a straight or staggered configuration. T-slot construction allows easy adjustments of rail centers as totes or box sizes change. Roller centers are also easily adjustable.

Fixed end stops, staggered lanes, tilted unload positions, return lanes and guide rails are also available utilizing standard components.

These flow rails can also be used in conjunction with our standard flow rack design as shown.

Send your application information to sales@tekno.com today for a quote or call to discuss your application.
